CUNEO - PIEMONTE - ITALY

WHERE WE ARE

Ghedini State Conservatory is the main music higher education institution in a large area of the Northwestern Italy that covers Southern Piedmont and Western Liguria.

Cuneo is a medieval city founded in 1198, and is the most important city in Southern Piedmont. Despite being almost surrounded by the Alps, the city is in a favorable position not far from Turin, Milan, Genoa and France (Nice, Côte d'Azur).

The music university buildings are situated in the medieval historical centre of the city, at a walking distance from the railway station that connects Cuneo to the big city of Turin and its rich cultural life in about one hour.

Cuneo is renowned for its extraordinary food and wine, especially white truffle and some of the best red wines of the world like Barolo, and is surrounded by amazing Unesco heritage landscapes. Is a human scale city, with an excellent quality of life that has a positive impact on people living, working or studying there.
